The STC on Monday of this week tentatively added $38 million (4½ per cent inflation increase) to the $818,212,762 equalized valuation figure adonted by the county board April 24 for all real property.

Sharply divided in April, the board voted 7 to 6 then to knock a 4½ per cent inflation factor out of a $856,767,290 real property valuation proposed by the board's equalization com-

STC showed that the added $590,407 tacked onto county real property values would go to eight local units. Bertrand township would get $207,542 of the figure, and Baroda township would get $150,266. Benton Harbor would have $71,205 added and, Hagar township $86,586. Extra sums also went as follows: Berrien township. Buchanan township $50.492: Niles township, $9,179;

Three Oaks township, $1,587. For personal property, the STC tossed another $139,311 in value onto Buchanan city, one of the most vociferous protesters among several local units who claimed their valuations were too high. And Chikaming township had $64,345 added to its personal property total.

Anyone For Rescuing New York City?

Leaving Paris out of it, New York City is still the Mecca for the fashionconscious woman fortunate enough to be attached to a well-heeled hubby

It remains the national hub for the theater and performing arts.

It is the nation's center in banking and private investment placement. Some uncertainty hovers over this situation. The state legislature and the governor are toying with a special tax on stock and commodity exchange transactions. The New York Stock Exchange's governors vow they will move to a more hospitable clime if that idea, which has enjoyed an annual tossing around for the several years. becomes a reality.

It houses most of the advertising industry and is the local point for television programming by the three major networks.

It has more skyscrapers than any other spot on the globe and for what it may be worth, it is the headquarters for the United Nations.

With so much going for it, the conclusion might reasonably be that Gotham really is the crown jewel in the American diadem.

Upon closer inspection, New York City is the perfect example of the proverb anent all that glitters is not

New York City is broke and has been for some time; so keep in the hole that its mayor, Abraham Beame, an accountant by training, freely concedes the dilemma.

He really has no choice but to be frank, since he has asked the state capitol at Albany and the White House to come to the rescue.

The city has $13 billion in funded debt and it has to raise nearly $2 billion a year just to service that dead

President Ford turned thumbs down on a $1.5 billion emergency loan request saying, "We must stop promising more and more services without knowing how we will cover

The city's basic problem right along has been in providing more services and vastly overpaying for them beyond its economy's ability to generate the taxes to pay the piper. Since 1960, for example, only one of every four jobs added to the city has been in the private sector. Put another way, the employing segment has moved to the suburbs or out of state for a more beneficial atmosphere.

Federal aid is no solution whatever. It would be the same as giving a fat man a second helping when he should be fed only half a portion at the first serving.

New York and other big cities don't need propping up.

They need salvation by way of re-

First to represent the United States was Pocahontas. For more than a century this buxom Indian lass was used in Europe to indicate America. Then came the rattlesnake, Yankee Doodle and Brother Jonathan, younger brother of John Bull, and Miss Columbia in stainless white garments.

The War of 1812 produced the original Uncle Sam. And he was a real man, Samuel Wilson of Troy, N.Y., a prosperous meat packer who sold and inspected meat for the Army, Each shipment of salted meat had the barrels stamped "U.S." and so became known as "Uncle Sam's meat." Later this gradually spread to other federal property and activities until Uncle Sam became generally accepted.

STORY TWANGED A TENDER NERVE

The story of Charlie Casey in Wednesday's paper twanged a tender nerve. I can certainly sympathize with him in his attempt to confront the Ford Motor Co. president with his Patched, Repaired & Vibrating brand new car". I don't know how bad his Mustang II vibrates, but my $4000.00 American Motors Hor net is a real gut grinder in the 55 to 60 MPH range. The company has done little more than wait out the warranty for over 10 months, although the dealer has made an honest, though futile effort to correct it. Taking the car to the Detroit zone office produced a token action, but did nothing to reduce the vibration. I've offered, by way of the A.M.C. Hot Line, to absorb the loss of 10 payments and trade in, and simply give it back to them, but they don't want it either. Can't say I blame them.

According to the newspaper account, the Ford president refused to see Charlie Casey when he went to Detroit. More then likely. Roy D. Chapin Jr. wouldn't see me if I made another trip to Detroit either, but I might consider relieving my 10 months of frustration by driving my Hornet Vibrator Harvey E. Mass

In the end, Kennedy was able to have the best of both worlds by convincing Protestants they had nothing to fear from him and by stimulating Catholics in droves to help him break the presidential religious barrier. : But Udall frankly acknowledges that the only way he may be able to resolve his own problem may be some sort of public confrontation with his church leaders, which would make him the first presidential candiate in modern times to deny rather than pay obelsance to the teachings of his childhood religion. Udail was raised a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, usually referred to as the Mormon church. He still lists it as his official religion, but he has rarely been inside a temple in 30 years. He has been divorced and drinks, in moderation, both coffee and liquor — all forbidden by the Mormon church. Udall is preparing a major speech challenging Wallace's qualifications as a national leader, focusing on Wallace's dismal economic record. as governor, and his inexperience in foreign affairs. Udall plans to launch his attack shortly after Wallace's expected nouncement soon that he will seek the Presidency

By so doing, Udall will contrast sharply with his major rivals, Sens. Big Lake Car Ferries Fading Into Legend

Only 3 Remain In C&O's Fleet At Ludington

EDITOR'S NOTE: George Vargo, of Benton Harbor, is a former Great Lakes sallor whose avocation is writing maritime history. This is one of a series of articles he has prepared for this four-recover.

By GEORGE VARGO

Those big carterries of Lake Michigan are becoming a feded legend. There is a touch of class that gradually is vanishing from American travel. It is the carterry, the Queen Mary of the Chesapeake & Ohio fleet.

The P.M. 17 was the first carferry to be built by the railroad. She came out in 1901 and had a full length cabin, showing the growing interest in passenger business. During the fruit season she arrived in Milwaukee eyery morning with west Michigan fruit, which she loaded in Muskegon.

The P.M. 18 was built along the same lines as the P.M. 17. She also came out with improved passenger quarters in a full cabin, with more staterooms and lounge space. The P.M. 18 also became popular as an excursion boat out of Chicago during the summers of 1909 and 1910. While in this trade, her car deck was planked over for dancing and dining. Slot machines and other gambling devices were placed on her spacious decks.

In September of 1910 she returned to her home port of Ludington and rejoined the fleet. On her first trip after returning to her resular run, the

P.M. 18 took a load of 29 freight cars and left for Milwaukee around midnight.

When halfway across the lake she was found to be leaking badly. Pumps were started, but the ever incoming sea gained and the P.M. 18 started to submerge, stern first. While alarm bells rang, the purser began sending signals of distress by wireless. The crow forced the freight cars over the open stern to lighten her, but she continued to sink.

The P.M. 17, then on ber way to Ludington from Milwaukee, picked, up the message and proceeded to the scene at full speed. Arriving along-side just before the stricken vesset made her final plunge, the P.M. 17 crew stood by helplessiy and watched her give a violent turch and sink in 400 feet of water, about 20 miles off Sheboygan.

waving farewell. The P.M. 17 picked up 33 survivors, losing two of their own crew during the rescue operations. Twenty-nine were lost.

Those who were rescued told of how they owed their lives to the bravery of the crew who stayed at their posts until the ship sank, a few of whom, being sucked down; by the ship, managed to reach the surface and were saved. The cause of the disaster is a mystery to this day and although many explanations are offered the real-time will never be known.

The railroad built a new ship the next year to replace the lost P.M. 18 and disregarding all superstitions also called her the No. 18, She was scrapped at Hamilton, Ontario in 1937.

The next carferries to be added to the fleet were the Nos. 19 and 20. The P.M. 19 was converted to a pulp-wood barge in 1940. After being idle at the dock for several years, the P.M. 20 was sold to the State of Michigan in 1938. She was rebuilt at Manilowoc, renamed City of Munising and placed in service as a ferry across the Straits of Macking.

In 1924 the railroad built another pair of carferries numbered 21 and 22. They were built larger, faster and better equipped for liandling rush reight but there was little difference in the passenger accommodations.  In May, 1971. C&O told the government that they would continue to carry passengers on their Lake Michigan Ferries. They also admitted that the ferries contributed $1.4 million to their income that year.

Many times the ferries would be stuck in Lake Michigan ice. And what went on? The salemen would play cards with the crews to while away the time as they waited for a break in the ice. There were no helicopters or Coast Guard ice breakers like the Mackinac. Those were the days when men were stronger than iron; The winters were long and 30 below zero was common.

In 1929, The City of Saginaw 31 was built. She was the first commercial ship on the Great Lakes to be equipped with radar.—With the building of the 31 and her sister ship City of Flint 32, the railroad began to give the ships names as well as numbers. They both have gone to be scrapped or used as barrees.

The two ships were the beginning of a new era in cross-lake service. Built at the cost of $2,850,000 they offered the traveling public finer accommodations and faster service. People began to find it easier and cheaper by far to cross Lake Michigan on a curferry than it was to ranke the long trip around by Chicago or the Straits of Mackinae.

All they needed to do was drive to the dock on either side of Wisconsin or Michigan, and step out of their cars (which were taken over by a member of the crew) and go aboard ship, where they found comfortable lounging space; luxurious staterioms and a dining room where excellent food was served. After a trip of only a few worry-free hours they reached their destination, refreshed and ready to be on their way once more.

For the businessman it meant a chance to catch up with his work and for the cross-country traveler time for a few hours of much needed sleep. As passenger traffic kepl increasing and more treight was carried by their ships (the City of Flint established a world's record in 1939, by traveling 100,000 miles in one year) the Pere Marquette R.R. began to figure on another ship for their Lake Michigan Fleet. This one was to be even bigger, better and faster than the 3t and 32.

On March 20, 1940, the keel was laid, at the Manitowac shippard, for the City of Midland 41. She mode her maiden voyage on March 12, 1941. It took 700,000 rivets to build her and she is 108 feet high from her keel to the top of her spar. Built at the cost of $2,000,000, she has 60 staterooms and capacity for 32 (reight cars as well as automobiles on her car deck. Powered by twin Skinner Uniflow steam engines, she has a cruising speed of 18 miles per

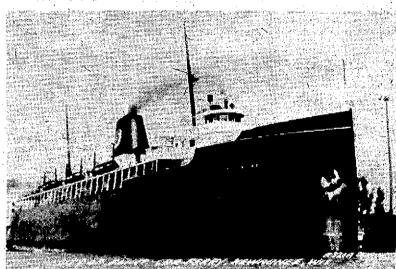

On June 6, 1947, the Pere Marquette became an integral part of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway System. Two twin ships were launched in 1952. The Spartan was the first of the two ships each measuring 410 in length with beams of 60 feet. The S.S. Badger was named in boilor of the University of Wisconsin. And the Spartan, similarly bonoring Michigan State College.

When these ships were first launched they were still known as carferries but today the company prefers to have them known as "trainferries" or to those who travel by car. as "autoferries." As are all ships of the C&O fleet, they are airconditioned and are equipped with rader, ship-to-shore telephone, direction finder gyro-compass and all the latest and most modern safety equipment that money can buy.

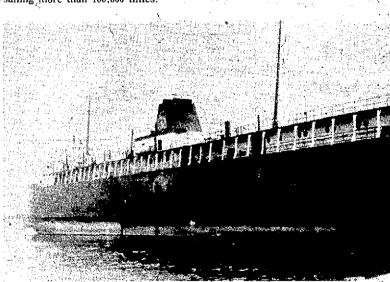

ment that money can buy. Will the ferries go as the passenger train? This has been a question lately in railroad circles. The elegant ferries still make their daily runs but for how long? From a fleet of 7 ships they have dwindled to a mere three. Some have gone to the scrapyards overseas and others are barges around the lakes. Some if they could talk or whisper could tell tales of pruninent persons which were

It will be a sad day when the last ferry will leave the lakes. In 1937, the Badger, Spartan and Midland 41 carried over 130,000 passengers, a record for the Great Lakes and occan ships.

Not even ocean ships carried so many passengers in one year. All this blue water going to waste as cheap transportation is thrown out the window. A few of those ferries could perk things

I-94 Detour Planned For Overpass Repairs

 Eastbound traffic on 1-94 will be detoured off the freeway several nights starting Monday to permit work on the Highland avenue overpass east of Benton Harbor in Benton

The detour will divert eastboond 1-94 traffic to M-139 and the 1-94 Business Loop through Benton township according to the state highway department.

The detour will be in effect from 11 p.m. to 7 a.m. The repair work is not expected to require more than four nights.

Westbound traffic on I-94 will not be affected, the department reported.

The Highland avenue overpass is to be strengthened by installing tensioning cables beneath the bridge deck. A department spokesman said the bridge has no apparent defects, but that at an annual inspection design engineers held the bridge should be strengthened as a precautionary measure. Engineers said an exceptionally heavy load on the Highland bridge might cause

Dear D.P.: If you were asked to give up your room for a couple weeks at Christmas or Easter, or for an occasional weekend, I'd say O.K. But according to my figures you are spending 25 per cent of your nights sleeping on the floor. I don't think it's fair.

How about a pull-out sofa or a double cot for your aunt and uncle since they are such frequent guests? Suggest it and quote me. (P.S. You might also quote the wise man who said, "Relatives, like fish, begin to stink after three days.")

I'm no dog. I've had plenty of dates with great-looking guys and I'm not a prude, either. But I decided when I listened to guys talk about how they had scored with Alice the first night. Mazie was a pushover and Nell was a sure thing - that these girls were dumb bunnies and I wasn't going to be added to the list. Quiet research revealed that over half of my ninth grade class had "lost it at the Astor." This information came from the girls as well as the guys. It made me sick.

When the chicks get wise to the fact that sex for most teenage dudes is an ego trip, they'll he able to say "no" a lot easier. As for those sex maniaes who get revved up at the sight of an ankle and give three girls a week the "I love you" bit, all I have for them is disgust. It's a rotten way to unload pent-up energy. and when they arrived they discovered a reception was being held after the wedding. They had not been invited. What does this sound like to you. Ann? -

Dear Perix It sounds like a gross misunderstanding. The reverse is far more feasible. Guests are often omitted from the wedding (especially if it's the second time around for the bride or groom) but they are invited to the reception. Home Buyer Tax Credit Loaded With Fine Print

NEW JOB: Egil "Bud" Krogh, former head of White House "plumbers" unit who spent 41/2 months in prison, has joined staff of Rep. Paul N. "Pete" McCloskey Jr., (R-Calif.) as legislative assistant. His salary is not yet set. (AP Wirephoto) credit for buying a new home less than expected if they aren't wary of the fine print in the tax laus. The tax cut law signed by President Ford in March provided for a tax credit of 5 per cent of the value of the new house up to a maximum of More than 400,000 families are expected to take advantage of the opportunity.

The credit applies to houses started before March 26 and acquired and occupied as a buyer's principal residence between March 12 and Dec. 31. 1976. A binding contract to buy must have been signed by Jan.

But there were other, more complicated wrinkles in the law, prompting the Internal Revenue Service to publish Thursday a series of questions and answers designed to clear up any confusion.

Take the 55 per cent of newhome buyers who have sold their old home at the same time they buy a new one. Buyers whose old home has increased in value - as most have - must residence, might find their tax reduce by the appreciation value the purchase price of the new house.

To use the IRS examples. suppose you are an apartment dweller who buys a $50,000 house. Five per cent of that is $2,500. So when you fill out your taxes next-year, you're entitled to subtract $2,000 from your normal tax bill.

But now suppose you were living in a house which had cost $25,000. You sold it for $40,000 before buying a new $50,000 house. Your tax credit is only 5 per cent of $35,000, or $1,750.

That $35,000 is the cost of the new house minus the $15,000 gain on your old house. The reduction reflects the fact that the government considers the $15,000 increase in the value of your old house to be a taxable capital gain, but in most cases

It can be deferred if you buy a new, more expensive house 18 months before or after the sale. For most owners the deferral is a saving because the tax is eventually levied after they've tax rate, or else the tax is taken out of their estate after death. But the IRS won't permit people to defer the capital gains tax and still claim the gain as part of their credit.

Here are excerpts from the IRS questions and answers:

Q. I have purchased a con-dominium for $40,000 (including closing costs) and received a new car with a market value of $3,000 as a bonus for purchasing the condominium. How much of a credit am I entitled to?

A. Assuming the residence qualifies otherwise, you are entitled to a credit of $1,850 based on an adjusted basis of $37,000 since the cost of the residence must be reduced by the fair market value of the car you

O. I have been living in a house for the last two months as a renter and plan to buy the house under a written option in my original lease agreement. The house was new when I moved in. Can the house qualify?

A. Yes, but it would not qualify if you were not the original occupant.

Q. I have heard that I cannot claim the housing credit unless I have a certificate from the seller. Please explain

A. Unless you build your own house, you must attach to your return a certification by the seller that the purchase price is the lowest price at which the residence ever was offered for Q. If the certification falsely states that construction began hefore March 26, 1975, can I still qualify for the credit?

A. No. Q. If the certification is false as to the lowest price ever offered for sale can I still receive the credit?

A. Yes, provided you did not participate in the false certification or know that it was

Alabama Drilling For Oil Bonanza

CREOLA, Ala. (AP) new breed of millionaires" may rise out of the bard . scrabble populace of North Mobile County thanks to one of the largest oil finds since the first shocks of the energy crisis.

Two of the fields are the two largest discoveries in the U.S. over the past two years. says Alabama's state geologist, Dr. Phillip LaMoreaux. "You're to have a lot of millionaires rise out of there ... a new breed of millionaires."

LaMoreaux says there are good signs that the oil fields of Union, Getty and wildcatters will produce the huge quantities as and condensate that their initial probes have indicated.

Getty's Peter Klein well near Creola has been marked at producing 6.8 million cubic feet of gas per day, and it's two oil-bearing formations, Smackover and Northlet, have brought in 2.166 and 1.416 barrels of condensate oil per day respectively. The Klein well was discovered last September, and in January Union oil brought in a well on Mobile County school board property in Chunchula. LaMoreaux says the well is going to create "the richest school commission in the country.

The hopes of state officials and the backwoods landowners on the verge of huge good fortune, however, could dry up if future wells strike out. And in any event it is a patient process which may be a decade in becoming fully realized.

Mike Hillman, who leads a five-man crew at a Union well five miles east of Chunchula, stands before the screaming drill which is tunneling more than 18,000 feet into the earth He's been there for a year and says it will be a few more months before the drill, hopefully, hits pay dirt. Iola Smitherman picked crops and worked on a chicken farm to raise cash during the past three summers. But today she stands, 66 and barefoot, on a one-acre plot of land that could ease her earthly cares.

Her tiny farmhouse is on a stretch of piney woods land in southwest Alabama where the 10 oil wells already have signaied huge oil prospects.

Any riches are still a few vears away — more drilling,

America Is Not Rushing To Establish Saigon Ties

WASHINGTON (AP) American officials indicate they are in no hurry to respond to the new Saigon government's over- American thinking as the ture for diplomatic relations with Washington and that they are uncertain just what the United States is being asked to récognize.

Provisional Revolutionary Government leaders in Saigon disclosed Wednesday that they are willing to have diplomatic relations with all countries of the world, including the United

They said their conditions for relations with Washington are that the United States respect South Vietnamese sovereignty and that it live up to its responsibilities under the 1973 Paris accords. On this lutter point, there was no elaboration.

Normally, the only American requirements for recognizing a new government are assurances that it is in full control of the country and that if will abide by its international obligations.

But officials suggested the Vietnamese case won't be quite that simple Currently, the Salgon government is under what is known as a military management committee led by Col. Gen. Tranh Van Tra. But it is uncertain how far his rule extends.

It is expected that South Vietnam eventually will come under the exclusive control of North Vietnam but officials here say they have no idea when that day will come. It also is unclear how long the military management committee will hold power or if any plans are being made for

Consumers Says Midland Plant Work Continues At Slower Pace

MIDLAND, Mich. (AP) -Consumers Power Co. says it is continuing work on its Midland nuclear plant at a sharply reduced pace because of financial problems.

Cost estimates have been increased from $940 million to $1.4 billion for the two units and the scheduled opening of the facility has been delayed for two years, officials said Thursday.

"Budget restrictions have severely curtailed the level of activity at the plant site; but we are maintaining a work force of about 200 people and are con-within the scope of budget authorizations." said William Kessler, project manager. "Construction materials and equipment are still arriving at project site." he said. 'Material scheduled for future use is being stored to specifications which meet our quality assurance and quality control

Senate Panel Okays Bill Hiking Mileage Standard

major response to the continuing energy crisis, the Senate Commerce Committee has approved a bill requiring a 100 per cent improvement in auto fuel efficiency by 1985.

The hill, which the auto industry maintains is unnecessary, sets standards requiring a 50 per cent improvement in gas

The standards would require the nation's automakers to produce 1980 model cars capable of achieving 21 miles per gallon and 1985 model cars capable of 28 miles per gallon.

The bill covers the 1977 through 1985 model years and is based on improvements over the gas mileage achieved by 1974 model year passenger automobiles.

The 11-5 Commerce Committee vote came Thursday as United Auto Workers President Woodcock told the Senate Public Works Committee it will be disastrous if Congress insists on requiring improved fuel efficiency and stricter auto emission standards at the same growers, by a narrow margin, have rejected a proposed increase of the state's apple tax. according to Ralph Morrow, a deputy director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Apple Growers Vote To Flood Relief There's No Market For Reject Higher Tax

Of 348 voters, 187 opposed the increase while 161 favored it. The figures indicate that 54 per cent voted no and 46 per cent yoted yes. Morrow estimated that over 1,500 Michigan apple growers were eligible to vote in the referendum. Results of the referendum were released this

Restore Land

Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation county committees | Discovery in Michigan have been given authority to determine whether farmers are eligible for federal financial assistance due to damage caused by last month's flooding.

Under the Emergency Conservation Measures program the committees can aid farmers to alleviate conditions resulting from natural disasters and to restore agricultural lands to productive

County committees, in determining eligibility, are to decide if the damage: is unusual, not the type that would occur frequently; affects the productive capacity of the farmland; if not treated will impair the land; will be so costly to correct that the farmer can't do the work without federal help.

A farmer may receive up to 80 per cent of the cost for: removing debris; grading damaged farmland; restoring permanent fences; restoring conservation structures.

Emergency Loan Offer

Berrien and Van Buren farmers who suffered damages or will suffer a production loss due to flooding, storms and high winds beginning about April 18 may be eligible for emergency loans.

The Farmer's Home Administrations of the counties involved are handling the loans, made at a five per cent interest rate and amortized over a five-year period.

Applications will not be accepted after June 27 for physical and not after Jan. 29, 1976, for production losses

Applications are now being accepted at the county offices.

Wheat Payments

Farmers that suffered a wheat production loss from last month's flood or due to winter kill are eligible for a payment of 68 cents a bushel on the normal yield on their allotment acres for the farm, according to the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation

Farmers who suffered a loss must file a request with their county ASC office prior to destroying the wheat or devoting the land to any other use. The crop will then be appraised by a cer-

If weather prevented planting the normal winter wheat crop they also may be eligible for payment, if they can establish this fact to the satisfaction of the ASC county committee.

Foster's figures follow: There are 17,800 acres of 'gras currently in production in the state and, assuming last year's May Improve average yield of 1,500 pounds per acre, some 26.7 million pounds will be harvested this year.

- Last year 22.3 million pounds of gras were processed in state, and this year processors indicate they will only process an average of 70 per cent of that total. That prediction means that 15.6 million pounds will be processed this year while 26.7 million pounds will be grown.

According Fooster, two processors who earlier bowed out of 'gras negotiations have stood by that decision; the rest of the state's packers have agreed to buy 'gras under terms offered by the Asparagus Growers. Those terms call for a price of 24 cents a pound on 100 per cent grade with an average spear length of 71/2 inches with an allowance to up to 9 inches.

Unsigned are Eau Claire and Traverse City canning com-panies, Foster said. Eau Claire has indicated it will buy 'gras from non-bargaining unit members while Traverse City won't pack any this year, Foster said.

According to Foster there is reason to hope that more than 15.6 million pounds of Michigan 'gras will be marketed.

Freezers want to process they processed last year, he said. And more than the normal 5 to 7 per cent of the crop will be from Ontario have shown an interest in buying Michigan gras for the first time this year.

Even with these marketing possibilities, he says that "onequarter to one-third of the crup will not have a market this year. Just no way.

Wet Ground Prohibits Oat Planting

Grain farmers in Berrien county didn't plant oats this year and will probably plant more corn and soybeans than last year, according to Milton Francis, director of the Berrien Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation service.

According to Francis fields were too wet in March and April to plant oats, a crop usually harvested before late July Francis added that farmers are now planting corn except for a few scattered areas which are too wet.

Egg Tax Proposed

Commercial poultrymen from all over the United States would be asked to tax them selves to the tune of a nickel for each 30 dozen of eggs sold under a proposed egg research and promotion order.

Hearings will be held this week and next around the country by the United States Department of Agriculture in order to determine whether or not poultrymen favor holding a national referendum on the issue of a tax

Issuance of a national order was authorized by Congress through the Egg Research and Consumer Information Act, signed by the President on Oct.

The proposal provides for a nationally coordinated research and consumer information program to be financed by assessing those with over 3.000 laying heas up to five cents per 30-dozen of eggs handled.

The 30-dozen case is the usual shipping unit used by poultrymen, according to Carl Hoyt, extension poultry agent for Western Michigan

Hoyt pointed out that a few years ago a Michigan order asking four cents per 30-dozen was deleated. For Michigan, with some 512 million bens laving an average of 20 dozen eggs yearly, the tax could raise over $150,000.

Only farmers with more than 3.000 laying hens would be assessed, but those not wishing to participate would receive a refund upon request.

The order would become effective only if favored by at least two-thirds of the big U.S. producers voting, or by a simple majority of producers voting if they account for at least two-thirds of the commercial eggs represented in the referendum, USDA says

Other States May Delay Michigan Highway Progress

LANSING, Mich. (AP) - Michigan's highway building program is picking up speed but won't get a clear green light s other states get their road construction into high gear. One Michigan highway official believes Congress may cut highway funds for flecal 1976 because other states are not prepared for large scale construction projects.

Congress could put a hold on obligation authority at any time," says Gerald McCarthy, deputy director of highways for the Michigan Highways and Transportation Department.

Federal cutbacks may come because other states lack matching funds, don't have road plans ready or lack necessary environmental impact statements for highway construction, McCarthy

As a result of the release last February of $2 billion in impounded highway funds, Michigan was able to accelerate its road building program, McCarthy said.

Michigan gets $88.8 million in impounded federal highway funds. Because freeze money was released; Michigan during the first six months of 1975 has accelerated job lettings by $93 million. This is in addition to the $200 million worth of road work aiready underway, McCarthy says.

Federal officials estimate that each $1 billion released means 128,000 jobs. Half of the jobs are involved directly in road building and half are the result of industry's "trickle effect"—such as steel mill employment to make beams. That is good news to Michigan, which has a high imemployment rate, he says.

Each $100 million spent on Michigan highway building translates directly or indirectly into 12,600 jobs, McCarthy said.

Because of several complicated categorical federal requirements, about $15 million of Michigan's $88.8 million in released funds may not be obligated by the June 30 target, McCarthy said. This includes Urban System monies for city streets and country meds.

They (cities and counties) don't have enough time to gear up and, in some cases, don't have enough money, he said.

Detroit is one of the cities not using funds, but McCarthy said he did not know if that was because Detroit lacked projects or could not match federal funds.

However, Gwen Mingo, Minon's sister - in - law and a Van Buren juvenile court employe in 1972, testified Sturm was aware Mingo was applying before June. She said that in March or April of 1972, she saw Stump in the county courthouse and mentioned that Minen had applied.

"Oh yes, I have been meaning to hire some blacks," she quoted Stump as saying when she mentioned Mingo's name. She also sàid he told her he could not do any more hiring until late

Lloyd Bailey, Covert, a friend of Mingo's, said he went with Mingo in late February, 1972 to the courtbouse to check on Mingo's application. Bailey said that Roger Hoxie, Van Buren federal program grant coordinator, came out of his office, and that either Hoxie or a secretary gestured to Stump, who had just entered the building, about the application.

Bailey said Stump looked Mingo in the face and said, "I cannot be bothered today.' Stump said in earlier tes that he did not timony remember talking to Mrs. Mingo or Mingo about the application at those two times. Hoxie said he could remember talking xwith Mingo, but did not recall if he told Stump anything.

Hoxie also testified that his understanding of the EEA hiring guidelines were that Vietnam veterans be given first preference, and minority and disadvantaged persons second preference.

Evidence introduced yesterday established that Mingo applied for a deputy job on Feb. 22, 1972, and that a background check was completed on him March 9, 1972. Stump agreed that the background report on Mingo had no negative statements, but noted that Mingo had no previous law experience or first aid training. The employment applications used made no reference to race but race was: noted on the background reports.

Stump also testified that in the past he had offered deputy obs to two other black men, William Robinson when he was retiring as Covert police chief. and Michael McAllister. He said both joined the South Haven police department because of better pay, fringe benefits, and les travel time.

The Van Buren sheriff's department has no regular black deputies, although as a sworn deputy, McAllister could be called on in an emergency situation, according to Stump.

Bridgman Makes Path Easier For New Gast Plant

By JOHN DYE ub Recries Buresu

BRIDGMAN Gast Manufacturing company's proposal to build a new plant here cleared another hurdle during last night's city planning commission meeting.

The commission said it would recommend to the city commission that a large section of land on both sides of Red Arrow highway, including the 13.8 acre site in Gast's request. planned changed development district.

Howard Boyd, planning commission chairman, said by making the area a planned development district, the city would have greater control over the whole area and a stronger say in overall development of the Red Arrow area section. Under the concept, the city would have to approve specific plans for any development there

He said the land in question is currently zoned commercial.

The recommendation to turn the area into a planned development district must survive a public hearing and two readings before the city commission, before it could become law. It follows a May 6 city commission session in which city fathers tentatively agreed to a Cast request that Bridgman issue $2 million in Industrial revenue bonds in order to help finance construction of the proposed plant.

Boyd said the land recommended for planned development on the west side of Red Arrow, which includes the Gast site, is bounded on the north at a point just north of Willard street and to the south by the I-94 interchange. It's bordered on the west by I-94 and on the east by Red Arrow. -

The land on the east side of Red Arrow is bounded on the north by Lake street and on the south by Donna drive, Boyd said. He said the parcel is 390 teet in width.

The firm's president, Warren Gast, who attended last night's meeting, said after the session that several other Gast requests must still be approved by the city if the proposed plant is to be built in Bridgman. First, the city must make issnance of the bonds final and the rezoning must also be approved, Gast said. Still to be considered are requests by the firm that water and sewer lines be installed to the plant site and that a special industrial development area be declared at the plant site to give the firm a tax break allowed under state

Planners Okay Nursing Home At South Haven

By TOM RENNER

South Haven Correspondent SOUTH HAVEN — City plan ning commission last night recommended city council approval of a conditional use permit for the construction of a proposed basic-care nursing nome on a nine acre tract near North Shore drive and Baseline road

Planning commission action followed a public hearing attended by four nearby property owners who said they were not opposed to the nursing home. but were concerned about the location of parking lots and sersince drives.

Bartelson and Schaffer Construction, Inc. of Kalamazoo has proposed to build the nursing home that will ultimately have 108 beds. The company proposes to initially construct a home with 63 beds and within approximately three years add space for another 45 beds. The cost has been estimated at $500,000

The facility, to be known as Countryside Nursing Home, has been endorsed by the Southwestern Michigan Health Planning commission, according to the developers

The facility would be financed with private funds, according to Lindy Bartelson, who said he has built approximately 25 similar homes throughout the nation including buildings in Downgiac and Bridgman.

Planning commission hearing was necessary because property is zoned single family residential. Nursing homes are allowed in the zoning classification as a conditional use. Ultimate decision on granting the conditional use rests with the city çomeil.

Planning commission gave its endorsement after stimulating that parking be located away from pearby residences that fighting be properly shielded and that there he no throughdrive from Webster street to Baseline road. The developer also indicated he will deed a 25 foot deep strip of land along the western border

'BURNING': Thai students burn President Ford in effigy during demonstration in Bangkok Thursday night protesting America's use of military bases in Thailand in the rescue of merchant ship Mayaguez from Cambodia. (AP Wirephoto)

Thai Ambassador To Washington Being Recalled

By RICHARD BLYSTONE Associated Press Writer

BANGKOK Thailand (AP) Thailand is recalling its ambassader from Washington on grounds that the United States violated Thai sovereignty by disregarding a request not to use That bases for the Mayaguez rescue, the government announced today.

It also said it would demand a review of all economic and military agreements with the United States and that the Thai Anant ambassador, Panyarachun, would be asked before leaving Washington to submit a protest note to the U.S, government Premier Kukrit Pramoj told newsmen the note would explain that Thailand considers a viola-tion of its sovereignty the keeping of U.S. Marines at a U.S-run That air base for more than a full day after Kukrit formally requested that they withdrawn.

He said it would add that "we will not allow this kind of incident to occur again."

"We must see whether under the present military agreement Thailand does or does not con-Kukrit said. trol Utapao." referring to the big U.S.-run air base in Thailand. "If the present agreement does not allow That control then we will have to amend it."

As the announcement was made, a delegation of the new Saigon government arrived in Bangkok to reclaim U.S.-donated warplanes flown to Thailand refugees and establish friendly relations Southeast Asian countries.

The delegation said the withdrawal of U.S. troops and U.S. military bases from this region" was a prerequisite for genuine peace and indepene in Southeast A

The delegation - the first ever from the revolutionary movement in South Vietnam to come to Thailand - was greeted with flowers and cheers at the airport by about 70 members of the Vietnamese community in Thailand, including a reception line of Vietnamese girls dressed in the traditional ao dai cos-

Kukrit said Thailand would review the withdrawal schedule under which U.S. troop strength is to drop to below 19,500 by the end of June and to a handful by next March. But he stopped short of saying they would be expelled immediately demanded by the Thai foreign minister, a number of student groups and political parties.

Too fast a pullout would cause "inconveniences." he said. About 25.000 Thais are employed by U.S. military forces here.

The foreign minister sounded one conciliatory note, adding that Thailand and the United States have had a "long and friendly relationship, (and) ... we must act in a friendly and respectful manner to the United Kukrit was reported furious because of a press report from Washington sources that he was making a public show of opposition to the American action but had agreed privately to it.

About 300 of the 1,100 Marines reported brought to Utapao were said to have participated in the attack. Part of the combat contingent later returned to Utapao and left with those who had stayed behind.

The departure of the Marines did nothing to quiet public anger with the United States.

The student coalition that led the overthrow of the military dictatorship in 1973 demanded an apology from Washington within 24 hours and said it would hold anti-American rallies throughout the country.

U.S. Officials Under House Arrest In Laos

By PETER O'LOUGHLIN Associated Press Writer VIENTIANE; Laos (AP)

Three American aid officials remained under bouse arrest today in southern Laos, the U.S. Embassy reported. It said they were in no danger. The Embassy denied reports that students in the southern city of Savannakhet had threatened to kill the Americans unless the Vientiane government was purged of corrupt and rightist officials. The Americans were taken to the provincial governor's house Wednesday after a mob of students ransacked the Savannakhet headquarters of the U.S. Agency for International Development. The three men were trans-

Besides; there was no mention of the crew, heightening concern within the National Security Council that the men would be held hostage.

President Ford's decision to go ahead with the Marine attack won almost universal approval in Congress. In the Senate, conservative senators took the floor for four hours to laud the rescue action and to urge a strong na-tional defense. Sen. Carl Curtis, R-Neb., praised the action a courageous and decisive.

Democrats generally joined in the praise, although some law-makers claimed that Ford acted before allowing diplomatic efforts a chance.

New State Imposed Cost Faces Berrien

Sanity Hearings May Total $100,000

By SCOTT WILLIAMSON Stall Writer

The Berrien county board of yesterday expressed extreme displeasure with the state's new mental health code which could cost the county $100,600 or more a year in order to comply with its mandates.

Also during a busy May session, the board appointed nine men to serve as directors for the county's new Economic Development Corp. which seeks $3 million in federal funds to lure: industries into Berrien

In what has become a monthly criticism of state adopted programs which force counties to foot the bill, the commission adopted a resolution creating a new assistant prosecutor's position "in order to properly handle the increasing load" in the prosecutor's office.

It was noted that part of the increasing load is due to the state's mental health code bill, which went into effect Nov. 6. and requires a minimum of five hearings for each person instiintionalized because of insanity.

Unless the hearings are held, the person who is institutionalized is immediately freed. Members of the commission on and off the record blasted the mental health code, and one commissioner said he had no idea where the money to pay the Lange explained that within the first five months after a person has been committed, he's entitled to five hearings each of which requires a probate judge, member of the prosecutor's staff, in most cases a court-appointed defense attornev. bailiff, and court reporter.

In addition, the person can demand a jury for some of the hearings, Lange related.

If we get out of this for less than $100,000 we'll be lucky?" noted County Coordinator Roger Petric, and added the code could cost the county up to 8250,000 a year in order to comply with its provisions.

Courts Administrator William Evans said 112 persons are now institutionalized as a result of actions by the county, and he anticipated about that many more would be committed in the next year. While those who were previously committed are only entitled to an annual hearing. Lange stated persons committed since Nov. 6 will get all the benefits of the new mental health code-primarily the five hearings.

He said he and Probate Judge Zoe S. Burkholz have held 51 hearing-sessions since January, but noted in most cases the first two hearings were conducted at

According to the mental health code, the first hearing a preliminary hearing to determine probable cause for conmittment, is held five days after the initial committment. Lawmaker Says Home Also 'Think Tank'

LANSING, Mich. (AP.) - State Rep. George Montgomery wants a lax credit for thinking about legislation while at home.

The Detroit Democrat, who chairs the House Taxation Committee, says he should he allowed to write off his home as a place of a business because a lot of things he does there impact on legislation.

But the U.S. Tax Court recently agreed with the Internal Revenue Service that Montgomery has to treat his state allowance for Lansing living expenses as income.

Montgomery owes $1,100 in back taxes and interest for 1971 because Lansing, not Deroit, is his principal place of business, the

How do they know when I'm working? I may be thinking about legislation. My telephone rings when I'm at home, people call me all hours. I maintain I'm working even when they don't call me," he said. The Michigan Constitution requires legislators to maintain a residence in their districts. Montgomery said he'll ask the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals to review the tax court decision. Meanwhile, the IRS has filed for similar delinquencies for 1972 and 1974 returns, Montgomery said.

In addition, Evans said the probate judges are already loaded down with work, and the requirements of the code could necessitate a third probate judge, which would be another additional expense for the As a follow-up to board action

Mrs. Fletcher will be joined on a panel by a group of parents. The meeting is open to the public.

A press release lists questions to be answered by Mrs. Fletcher, Included are: Why can't Benton Harbor high school graduates pass tests to get jobs? Why can't parents be notified about student absences, before he students are so far behind that the only alternative is expulsion? Why are teachers demoralized about teaching in Benton Harbor? Why did administrators feel the necessity to organize into a labor union to protect themselves from the board of education?

The list of 15 questions also includes ways parents can get free lunch and breakfast programs for children in all district schools, how parents -get more involved in education regarding their children; and an opinion on why an NAACP suit is still pending against the Benton Harbor school district.

As it happens, he picked the wrong boy, because I saw the 'tiger cages," which were not underground pits (as a trick photograph in one of our former unlamented weeklies suggested) but aboveground and covered by a roof to keep out the rain and sun. After the great howls went up, the prisoners were removed from the "tiger cages" to other quarters and the were eagerly taken 'cages' over by South Vietnamese troops and their families because of the superior ventilation. So much for the "tiger cages. But back to the main point: there is a quantum jump between the brutality of, say, the Lon Nol or Thieu regimes and the sytematic barbarism of their successors.

Imagine for a minute that the "brutal, corrupt Lon Not clique" had driven the population of Phnom Penh into the countryside - women, children. sick, cripples included - and told them to sink or swirn. Can you conceive of the racket that would be launched by our ideological hemophiliacs? The very thought of it makes me shudder. Yet to date I haven't heard a peep out of them. There can be only two explanations for this silence: first, they don't care what Cambodians or Vietnamese do to each other (which is another way of saying they are callous isolationists and-or racists); or, second, they approve of anything done by "progressive" forces (which is another way of saying they are pro-Communist).

While they are meditating on it (and organizing their rally of the week against the "victous, CIA-founded Chilean junta"), two and a half million perfectly decent people, most of whom were about as political as Ankor Wat, are wandering around the Cambodian countryside in quest of something called "rehabilitation." No effort has been made to provide them with any of the necessities of life — it will be several months before the next rice drop comes in and they have no experience at farming. The intention of the Kinner Rouge is perfectly clear: they have sentenced millions to

There is a word for this: genocide. It seems to me that the government of the United States should begin raising hell on the subject.

Give me your honest opinion. What do you nk of the new coffee-dispensing machine I had installed out there?

Medicare Gouging

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Social Security Administration says the Medicare program has been overcharged $27 million by doctors, hospitals and nursing homes over the last five years.

About half that amount had been recovered by the end of 1974 and the balance remained outstanding, agency witnesses said Thursday to a House panel probing fraud and abuse in the budget of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Emphasizing that most cases involve abuse rather than criminal fraud, the witnesses said only a small percentage of alleged violations investigated result in convictions.

INVESTORS' GUIDE

By SAM SHULSKY

Q. When you advised a man with $50,000 who wanted $230 a month income to put it into bends or money management funds you ignored another alternative — a single premium refund type annuity which, at 60, would give him $343 a month and at 65, $379.50 a month. Since this is a refund type annuity he would not forfeit any money if be died prematurely. And he would not have to be concerned with managing his money.

(This from an insurance ex-

A. I defend your right to suggest an annuity. But I reserve

my right to argue about this

Taking your figures, a man of 60 would receive $343 a month

($4,116 a year), for life, with an estate possibility wiped out if he lived longer than about 12 or 13 years. If he were 65, his income would be $4,554 a year.

As this is written, $50,000 put into the best quality corporate bonds can bring him $1,500 a year for so long as he holds the Decline

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials slipped about 4 points in the early going, and losers took a lead of nearly 2 to I over gainers on the New York Stock Echange.

The downtrend came despite a cut in the discount rate by the Federal Reserve after Thursday's close. The central bank cut the rate it charges on loans to its member commercial banks from 614 to 8 per Analysts said it appeared the market had taken the rate cut into account in advance with its gains of the past several weeks.

Today's prices included Norton Simon, down 14 at 1714; General Motors, unchanged at 46, and Westinghouse Electric, off 1/4 at 163/4.
On Thursday the Dow Jones

industrial average fell 9.93 to Losers outnumbered gainers by about a 5-4 margin in tur-nover of 27.69 million shares on the Big Board.

The NYSE's composite index of all its listed common stocks dropped .39 to 48.44.

At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was down .34 at 87.49.

A. A rating of AA means the rating agencies place these bonds just one step below the very best to be had (AAA) and ahead of A. BBB, BB, B. CCC. CC. C. in other words if you want to rank the safety of bonds from 1 to 9. AA stands for second, which is a very good rating for you.
SWITCH TO BONDS

Q. I am a widew of 74, with a total estate of $100,000. Almost half of it is in common stocks and minual funds, 25 per cent in real estate yielding 7 to 8 per cent and the balance in bonds (two-thirds tax-exempt) and cash. Some of my stocks have dropped sharply. I want to keep money intact for my grandchildren. A. I feel 50 per cent in stock is on the heavy side for a woman of 74. That inuch and even more. could be in top quality bonds corporates and tax-exempts (the latter amount adjusted to keep your tax bracket down to amund 30 to 35 per cent.) It seems to me that if you keep the money intact via highest rated bonds you are doing all ou shouwd be expected to do for your heirs. No need for you to take risks to increase their inheritance.

TAX EXEMPTS Q. You frequently refer to tax-exempt bonds. Are they really tax-exempt or is the tax merely deferred?

A. Exempt ...forever. Not merely tax dd deferred. If you buy a bond issued by a state, city, town or any of their authorities, the income is exempt from Federal income taxes and, in most states, from state and city income taxes. That income is not taxable in the year received or at any other time. Income taxes on the growth in E bond value may be deferred for so long as you hold the E bonds, or the H bonds for which they may be exchanged.

SWITCH WON'T RELP

Q. I'm a widow, 73, in the 22 per cent income tax bracket. My interest comes mainly from 71/2 per cent savings accounts. I've been sold to buy U.S. Savings ls, even though they pay outy 6 per cept. A. I don't follow this reasoning, Savings Bond (H bond) interest is subject to Federal income taxes (although exempt from state and local). Since most of your tax bill is Federal. how would that switch help?

Stevensville Tables Cast-Matic Tax Relief

A requested 12-year, 50 per cent tax exemption for Cast-Matic die cast company's new addition was tabled by the Stevensville village council last

Council trustees said it will be necessary to meet with the Lincoln township assessor, who appraises village property, before acting on the request.

The exemption would include a new building addition, and new equipment, to cost an estimated $500,000, according to Charles Schreck, director of development for èconomic Berrien county.

Schreck made the tax exemp tion request for the company. Village officials said they will meet with the assessor, June 19. Schreck said the tax exemption could be provided under a 1974 state plant rehabilitation law designed to encourage industrial expansion in the state.

The exemption, he said, would apply to the new buildings and equipment only for 12 years.

In a related matter, a building permit was granted for the firm's 100 by 160 foot addition and a 12 by 40 foot shop office. Estimated cost is $210,767 and construction is to be completed by Aug. 1.

In other business, the council approved preliminary plans for a 28 by 97 foot car wash building to be built in Gram's mini mall. Red Arrow highway, Owner Bob Bush said it would not be an automatic car wash and would not be open at night. No estimated cost was given.

Council stipulated a green strip must be planted along the east side of the property which backs George street, a residential area.

A bid of $4,112 from John G. Yerington construction com-pany of Benton Harbor, for resurfacing the village parking lot on Kimmell street and St. Joseph avenue, was accepted. No other bids were taken.

Marty Watson, 28, of Stevensville, was hired as a village patrolman under the federallycomprehensive funded employment training act. The 10-month grant will pay his salary and benefits. Watson served two years with the Camden, New Jersey, police force.

Council adopted the state plumbing code, to be enforced

Final approval was given to developer Rudy Brunkel to two-bedroom hirid duplex buildings off DeMorrow road. Brunkel was given permission to ignore the normal requirement of installing sidewalks, curbs and gutters at the time of building. He must, however, complete this within two years.

Officials referred to the parks board a request by Ben Kerschbaum that the pump house, once used for the village's water system, be removed and children's park be made in that

Witness: Patty Kidnaped Him

SACRAMENTO (AP) Newspaper heiress Patricia Hearst acknowledged she participated in a Symbionese Liberation Army robbery of a San Francisco bank, a witness at the Marcus Foster murder trial has testified.

Tom Matthews, a 19 - year old Los Angeles area youth, told the courtroom he was kidnaped for seven hours May 16, 1974, by Miss Hearst, and William and Emily Harris

His remarks Thursday came as the defense went into the second day of the case in behalf of Russell Little and Joseph Remiro, two SLA members charged with the evanide bullet killing of Oakland schools chief Marcus Foster.

Matthews said both Harris and Miss Hearst told him the Hibernia Bank robbery was staged April 15, 1974, because "they needed the money.

They said they were really organized. They said if they could pull off a bank job in 11/2 minutes they could get away, Matthews recalled. Miss Hearst has since been charged with complicity in that robbery.

During the kidnaping, Miss Hearst wore a black wig she kept adjusting on her head, Matthews sald. He added she also were an ammunition belt and linded two guns.

Miss Hearst - who was called "Tania" by her two companions - also scoffed at media reports that cyanide bullets were not powerful enough to kill someone, Matthews said.

William Harris, in another conversation with Matthews. credited Miss Hearst with a central role in saving him from arrest at an Inglewood sporting goods store, Matthews added.

Matthews testified that Harris said he was trying to buy a bandolier for a shotgun when he got in a scuffle with salesmen at Mel's Sporting Goods store.

The salesmen had taken Harris' gun and were handcuffing him when Miss Hearst noticed what was going on and sprayed the store with her carbine, permitting his escape. Matthews quoted Harris as saying.

News accounts at the time said that the salesmen caught Harris trying to steal a pair of socks. Matthews said that Harris denied this.

Bankers Attend Security Seminar

Federal law officers and bank representatives coached more than 150 area bank employes and officers at a security seminar Wednesday at the Lake Michigan college auditorium.

Co-sponsors of the seminar were Farmers and Merchants National bank and Inter-City bank, both of Benton Harbor.

Training centered around the subjects of counterfeiting and check forgery, reviewed by Secret Service Agent Dave Freriks of the Grand Rapids of fice, and current kidnap-extertion techniques, reviewed by Agent Fred Goedtel of the bank robbery division of the Detroit office of the F.B.I.

The speakers also answered questions from the audience and led discussion. The program was concluded with the security "Handle With Care." dealing with the techniques of combining security with customer relations:

Among those attending were representatives of Peoples State Bank, St. Joseph; First National Southwestern Bank Michigan, Niles; Community State bank, Dowagiac; Bank of Three Oaks: Van Buren State bank, Hartford; Inter-City bank. and F & M National bank. Seven law enforcement officers from five different law enforcement agencies were present. Ralph Stanley, security of-licer for ICB, and Mrs. Sue Farmer, public relations direc-tor for F&M, co-chaired the seminar. A welcome to the LMC campus was presented by Lt. Mike Devine, head of law enforcement education at the

EXEMPTION BILL

LANSING, Mich. (AP) - A bill increasing personal exemptions on city income taxes has been introduced by Rep. Sal

Bridgman Calling New Kindergarteners

BRIDGMAN - Youngsters who will attend kindergarten in the Bridgman school system this fall are to be registered next Tuesday through Thursday. May 20-21-22, at the elementary school, according to school officials.

Children who will be five by Dec. 1 are eligible to begin kindergarten in September, officials said. Registration, to be held in conjunction with kindergarten visitation, will be 9 - 10:30 a.m. on Tuesday; 9 - 10:30 a.m. and 11:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Wednesday; and 1:30 - 3 p.m., on Thursday.

The registration is for Bridgman Piper students as well, school officials said.

Zeeland Woman Has Real Doll House

ZEFLAND, Mich. (AP) - Edna DePree's house is a dolls' house filled with 250 dolls she has made and collected over the past 37

Mrs. DePree, whose grandfather helped found this Ottawa County community in 1847, has glass cases full of the tiny little figures dressed in the native costumes of China, Israel, Switzerland and many other nations. One case devoted entirely to dolls in foreign costumes has 162 samples of Mrs. DePree's hobby. Another contains her handmade "masterpiece dolls" - copies of women models in paintings by famous artists.

Some of the faces I made from carved plaster and from clay, Mrs. DePree says. "The past few years my fingers have been a little stiff, so now I make their heads of cloth."

Mrs. DePree also has what she calls an "old-fashioned room" where she keeps, among other things, the chairs which were wedding presents to her parents. The room also has more glass cases with dolls lining one wall.

Two of the cases feature replicas of U.S. presidents' wives in their inaugural ball dresses. The dresses were copied from those in the Smithsonian Institute in Washington.

Keeler Famer Wins $25,000 In Lottery Draw

LAKE CITY, Mich. (AP) -Mursch's Breakfast Lottery Club of Kalamazoo should be able to buy a lot of doughnuts and coffee - the club today won the top $200,000 prize in the weekly Michigan Lottery Super Drawing.

The 25-member club was represented by Arthur D. Mursch, 48, owner of Mursch's Ice Cream Bar, in the drawing

A Keeler farmer who didn't get around to turning in his winning lottery ticket for five months won second prize. Roy Bisnett, 57; took home $25,000. Bisnett had a "Super Winner" last December, but didn't turn in his claim for several months

He said he was preoccupied with a trip to Florida, lottery bureau officials explained. He and his wife. Theresa, have three grown children.

The three $10,000 prizes drawn today went to: Gary McCormick, 42, of St. Joseph, an advertising representative for the Benton Harbor - St. Joseph Herald - Palladium. He and his wife, Jean, have six children: Claude C. Diehl. 38. of Milford, an assembly worker for Pontiac Motor Division in Pontiac. He and his wife, Joan, have four children, and Mike Sepanski, 22. of Toledo, Obio, aset up man for a Toledo firm. His wife, Debbie, works at a local hospital.

"George Washington sent to England for material for Martha, Mrs. DePree explained as she pointed to the first doll on the shelf. Of course, I couldn't find any material like it, so I had to paint the design on plain material."

Mrs. DePree has a set of slides of the life-size versions of the presidents' wives from the institute, and she uses them for detail. She handpainted all of the prints and did all the intricate beading

The dolls all have cloth faces but it is easy to recognize the faces of the First Ladies.

The Ditch dolls have faces cast in Holland, and most have hair made of darning cotton — folded and braided by Mrs. DePree. Most of the material for the clothing was bought in The Netherlands. "You see the national conturnes rarely in Holland now," Mrs. DePree said. "I think I saw a couple in Zeeland Province and in Utrecht, but that was the only place. Everything else is modern;

They even have hippies. Women wearing costumes like those on Mrs. DePree's dolls can be seen this week on the streets of Holland, where the annual Tulip Time festival is being held through Saturday.

Neighboring Holland and Zeeland were founded by Dutchmen; Mrs. DePree's home was built by her grandfather, Jan Van Enenaam, who came to this country to escape religious persecution in The Netherlands.
